98. Don't know

R. PART 3

R3. What approach will the company take to create a good work environment during the Coronavirus pandemic?

Select the answer that best describes your situation.

1. The company's workers are on site, and no special work environment routines have been introduced except for frequent hand washing and social distancing on the premises.
2. Those who can do so are working remotely from home, but otherwise we are trying to function as normally as possible.
3. A number of different measures have been adopted; the pandemic is having an extensive impact on the enterprise and, in turn, its work environment.

With regard to answer choice 3 you may, but need not, specify the measures that have been adopted:
